

CHARLES GODDARD APPOINTED PRESIDENT AND CEO OF MARINETTE MARINE CORPORATION

Marinette, WI – June 13, 2011 Fincantieri Marine Group announced today that Charles Goddard will take office as President and Chief Executive Officer of Marinette Marine Corporation (MMC), a Fincantieri company. His headquarters will be located in Marinette, Wis.

Prior to joining MMC, Goddard was the director of Aegis Program Integration and the lead for the Combat Systems Engineering Agent (CSEA) capture effort at Lockheed Martin.

Goddard comes to MMC with thirty years of extensive Navy experience within ship systems engineering and program management. During his time with the Navy, he worked on a variety of complex ship programs, culminating in his role as the Navy Program Executive Officer, Ships.

“Goddard’s broad experience in domestic and international program management, coupled with his demonstrated leadership, knowledge and experience, will serve us very well,” said Alberto Maestrini, executive vice president for Fincantieri’s Naval Systems.

Goddard is a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy and received a M.S. in Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). He is the recipient of the Gold Medal for exceptional technical and program leadership from the American Society of Naval Engineers.

About Fincantieri

Fincantieri-Cantieri Navali Italiani SpA (www.fincantieri.com) is one of the world’s most prominent and diversified shipbuilding groups. World leader in the construction of cruise ships, reference operator in the large ferry sector, the company also boasts a considerable order book in the military sector. To encourage the group’s growth, Fincantieri has developed a series of initiatives in fields close to its core business: ship repairs and conversion, marine systems and components and mega-yachts. Headquartered in Trieste, the company employs more than 10,500 people and has eight shipyards in Italy. In the United States, it operates through its subsidiary Fincantieri Marine Group (FMG), which builds ships for commercial and government customers, including the U.S. Navy and Coast Guard, at four facilities (Marinette Marine, Bay Shipbuilding, Cleveland Ship Repair, ACE Marine), in the Great Lakes region.
